

What does our community want in a city council member? I believe that Carmel's ethos for its elected officials should be respect for our heritage, stewards of today and planners for our community's tomorrows.

This has been my beacon during my six years on the council. I will continue to be practical, prudent and fair in my decision-making. I have been fiscally focused on directing our resources to our infrastructure--- streets, sidewalks, storm drainage---and to the protection and betterment of our natural resources and parks by banning plastic food packaging, removing tree stumps, planting trees, eradicating evasive species, enhancing beach enforcement and signage. I want to continue our positive momentum but always with an eye on the rich tap roots of our history.

I am an 18-year resident of Carmel; I am the owner of a small business; I have degrees in biology; I was previously employed in the private sector and state government before assuming responsibility for my family hotel business.

Our community has matters pending before us and we will encounter unanticipated issues in the next four years, which will be better addressed with experience. I ask for your vote to continue our path of historical continuity.
